“ I am one of Bray's classmates. He slipped away before our 45th class reunion in September. I have many fond memories of Bray when he was a boy in school.
Bray, may the Lord bless you and keep you and make his face to shine upon you, now and evermore.

“ I am both saddened and suprised to hear about the death of Bray. We had lunch together just last week at one of his favorite restaurants. We discussed the remodeling of his home and the joys of good ice cream. I will miss him. May God welcome him home with open arms and a good cup of ice cream.

“ To the family of Bray Cockerill: I am so sorry to have of the passing of my good friend Bray as we shared a lot of difficult times together. I know Bray is in much better hands now as he is with our Heavenly Father. Bray and I often talked about God and what it meant to be saved. I will miss our daily tlks and discussions. Peace and may God be with you.
