“ My favorite memory is when we would sit and talk about nothing at all for hours on end. Just spending time together. We would get on the computer and play games with each other when we couldn't be together. There was never a night that went by that we would not talk even if it was just to say Goodnight. I miss that on my birthday she would be the first one to call and wish me a Happy Birthday and even on my anniversary. I really do miss you mom.
