“ I will never forget the day I met Billy. I was a Corporate Executive Chef at The Breakers Restaurant and here came Billy applying for a job as a cook. He had such a sparkle in his eye and the passion for cooking was all over his face. I hired him on the spot. He very quickly became not only an employee but a best friend! We would go deep sea diving together, try to plan days off together, and as the months turned into years Billy had told me he always had a passion to go to chef school. I replied, "being a graduate of The Culinary Institute of America, I will teach you everything I know and you can be my apprentice". He was so excited and like a sponge on learning the ins and outs of the kitchen. Billy was such a natural in the kitchen. The Breakers was by far a challenge because we had two completely different menus, one going to a beach restaurant seating 200 and the other a fine dining Las Vegas style showroom seating 300 service at the same time. You had to be on your game, know what you were doing, and be gracefull under pressure. We worked so well together, we always said there wasn't anything we couldnt do together. We nicked named each other peanut butter and jelly. I gave Billy all my knowledge and passion in the kitchen, and the day came where he was ready to move on to his OWN kitchen. I was so proud of him!!! Of all the cooks I have had through the years he was by far my best, favorite, most passionate, loyal, driven and consistant. He would call on a regular bases from the restuarants he worked at and we would throw chef specials and fun recipes off each other. I will miss Billy so so so much and I know one day we will be cooking for God and Jesus!!! I want to one day meet his beautiful wife that he was so proud of and loved, and the two children that would make his voice quiver with joy and happiness when he would share his daddy days with me. For all of us who knew Billy knows he was a gentle, kind, passionate and loving young man who loved life and his family. I miss you, my friend!!

“ Billy was such a nice and fun all around good guy! I worked with Billy at The Breakers years ago, he always made me laugh and smile. I haven't seen or talked to Billy in years, however I still thought of him often and would smile everytime I thought of him! God bless Billy's soul, I know he is making everyone in Heaven smile and laugh right now! We will all see him again one day, that is what will give us hope and peace during this hard time of such loss. To his wife, children, mom and the rest of his family- I pray that God and Jesus give you peace until you meet up with Billy again. Love goes out to you all~ +

“ Billy and I were friends, co-workers and roommates when we lived in Florida. He and I had a lot of good times together. Billy had a big heart and behind that tough exterior was a kind and gentle soul. I will surely miss him and offer my prayers. We shall see each other again one day brother.
