“ When I was in fourth grade I moved far away from Judsonia and did not move back until ninth grade. During those years I would write Blake letters occasionally and when my family and I would come back around this area for holidays or any other reason Blake's parents would let me stay with them for days so I could hang out with Blake. Often I would come unannounced and still be welcomed by Blake and his family. Blake was good person and raised by good people. Its been hard holding back the tears and I give my love to his family.
