“ I am so sorry for your loss. I remember Uncle Billy from when I was little. He picked me up and put me on his shoulders and stumbled backwards and I had hit my head on the door frame at Aunt Fanny's house in the dining room while they were playing cards. They kept playing cards and Billy went and got a cold washrag and put on the big bump that popped up on my head. They just laughed and kept on playing cards. They would laugh because I use to say Uncle Billy was the only one that cared about me when we went to Aunt Fanny's house. Sending prayers your way. Please know others care! ((Hugs))

“ It was a honor to have met & known Bill. I remember being down at Diana's when he, Eva and Jean came in from Maryland for a visit. His smile and funny sayings kept us all laughing. As with each visit and later their move to South Boston, Va. He loved his family and bragged on each one. He loved his little dogs and took very good care of them. When I tried to get him to go to doctor about his foot, he said no one was there to care for his dogs and they were old and he wasn't leaving them. When the little dogs passed he said that was his last assignment. It was time to get that foot looked after so he could go to Maryland to see his family. I loved you Bill and you sure did love my cookies, chocolate cake & pies. It was an honor to give them to you and see that BIG SMILE. Now rest in peace your work is finished. Always be remembered by family & friends.
