“ I was so sorry that hear about Carroll. Our family went to Bradford Baptist Children with him and Reba for many years. They were a wonderful couple, and my grandparents, Ray and May Hickmon, always spoke of them highly. Carroll crossed my mind just recently. Below are some memories I shared on Facebook:
“Reba Hart taught our VBS class during my first year or two at Bradford Baptist. Later in the summer of 2000, she and Carroll were at the cemetery during the burial for Grandpa’s brother. Carroll must’ve dug the grave, so they were under a tree a little distance away. My brother and I walked over to speak with them afterward. Grandma had been buried at the same cemetery just weeks earlier. Carroll and Reba couldn’t have been kinder and thanked us for coming over. I’ll never forget Reba saying, ‘May was just like a second mother to you, wasn’t she?’ I hadn’t thought of our relationship with Grandma in those exact words, but Reba was absolutely right. I’ve no doubt that her own grandchildren felt the same way about her and Carroll. They were just the best.”
