

Dan Robertson, Jr.

January 21, 1947 - April 27, 2017

Dan Robertson, Jr., age 70 of Searcy, passed away at his home Thursday, April 27, 2017. He was born January 21, 1947 to the late May (Hipp) and Dan Robertson, Sr. in Sumter, South Carolina. Dan was proud to be a retiree of The United States Navy. He dedicated over 20 years of service to his country as well as serving during the Vietnam War era. Dan also retired as an auto mechanic. He leaves to cherish his memory his wife of 48 years, Suzi Angel-Robertson; a son, Dusty Robertson; two daughters, Skye (Nikko) Conway, Angelia Robertson; four grandchildren, Cody Lynn and Sadi Rose Robertson, Rayne and Tripp Conway; 1 great-grandchild Sebrina Robertson; one brother, Donald Gorden, Sr.; and one sister, Shirley Slater. There is doubtless, a host of relatives, friends, and comrades too numerous to list that will mourn the passing of Dan. He was preceded in death by his parents; nephew Donald Gorden, Jr.; brother Steve Robertson; and sister Susan Johnsonbaugh.

“ only came across this today (29 Aug 2020), but wanted to say what a nice man Dan Robertson was. I served under him and Chief Wesley at my very first duty station, for a total of three years and he made the transition from BMT into active duty a smooth one for me. He always made me challenge myself, take it a step further and believed I was able to do what ever task I was given...He even chose me to piolet our LCM8, which I did with his guidance. I just wanted his family to know that he is thought of fondly, even after all of these years. To me, he will always be "Dan the man".

“ May God bless each of you and comfort you during this difficult time. My deepest sympathy for your loss. Enjoyed getting to know Dan over the past months and getting to visit with him. He had quite the sense of humor. RIP Dan. Fair Winds and Calm Seas!!!
