“ This was a wonderful lady. I remember her at church when I was a little girl. I still remember that homemade doll house I was given in third grade and I'm sure she had a lot to do with it.

“ Dear Wright family, I have fond memories of Delores and Wayne Wright. I first met Delores when she and Wayne were dating sometime in the late 60's. My late husband, Billy Stokes was playing steel guitar with Wayne's band. I always found Delores cheerful and friendly. She loved everyone of her friends. She and Wayne married in May of '69, Bill and I married in Nov. of '69. Bill's life was greatly influenced by Wayne and Delores. Although his life was short, he cherished his fellow music-loving friends. I will always be thankful to the Wright family when Bill was sick. Our son, Brandon was only in the first grade when his Dad died and your family came and took Brandon home with you and took care of him so that I could have a break. That's the kind of people that Wayne and Delores were. Always ready to help their friends. My prayers will be with you and you grieve the loss of your loved one.

“ I was so sorry to read about Delores. As I watched the video, it brought back many memories of us sitting outside talking and trying to solve the worlds problems. Aunt Winnie (Grandma Galloway to us) sure loved Delores and Wayne. My heart and my love is with all of you during this sad time.
