“ Dennis was an inspiration. He always kept a good sense of humor, humility, and hope. I remember as an elementary school student his determination to not allow the impact of polio on his body to stop him. His braces must have been so uncomfortable as they were heavy but he took the steps onto the bus and walked the hill to the cafeteria with the rest of us because disability was not accommodated in those days. His smile was always present. His nature warm and engaging. He has been a good neighbor and skilled in small engine repair which many relied upon. Great men are self made and never hardened by hardship; he was one. Our condolences to his wife, children and family. Know he will be remembered and missed.
