“ I grew up running in and out of the McGiboney house, having been taken in as a friend by Bud when my family moved to Searcy when we were both 12. Mr. McGiboney always gave us kids a hard time, which just mortified Bud. He had many collections, stories and corny jokes - and was always willing to spend lots of time sharing them with us. There never was, nor ever will be, another one like him. I hope he knew how much we all loved him.
