“ Worked with Fred at ITT for several years. Known as "Ready Freddie" since he was always up to the task and willing to help. Many good memories from the shop and Fred is among those memories.

“ Fred was an inspiration! He is the longest working man I've ever known. At an age when most men have long been retired, Fred was still going strong - working security, serving as a constable, and volunteering at school. He was a living Energizer bunny. He loved his coffee - you couldn't pour too many cups for him. He joined our family when he and Aunt Carolyn married, and he enriched all of our lives. When Aunt Carolyn was ill, Fred and I had several chances to visit. He shared his intriguing and amazing life story with me (at my request). It was filled with many childhood heartaches, youthful adventures, and victories in adulthood. Especially entertaining was the story of how he joined the service. Fred didn't let the hard knocks he had endured as a youngster hold him back or become an excuse. He was determined to succeed, and succeed he did. He was a man of faith who credited the Lord with the good things that had come to him in life. It was a blessing and honor to have known him. He will be missed by many. Enjoy heaven, Uncle Fred!
