“ This was the vilest person I have ever come across especially when he was high on meth and drinking and always doing drugs. He was nothing but a tyrant. Now maybe people can live in peace. ”

Today is his birthday and I am his daughter. Going back to see my daddy's obituary with my sister and we see this disgusting comment. You are the evil one for speaking like this about a father and grandfather who is loved and missed. You are mistaken. He was a provider and was happily married for 32 years. He was a riverboat man and was an assistant welding instructor at a university for the last 6 years of his life. You did not know my dad.

I wish to convey my sincerest condolences to your entire family. Losing a loved one in death is one of the hardest things that anyone will ever have to deal with. There is a great hope held out to us for the future because God promises to bring those we lost back to life by means of a resurrection to a paradise earth, where sickness and death will be no more. I hope this brief message will bring you a measure of comfort in this difficult time.

“ Our heartfelt condolences to the Humes family for your loss. Dallas was a wonderful person, so glad we have had the pleasure to be called his friends. He brightened the lives of many young children, especially during the holidays. And he has a group of great young men he was teaching in welding class. R.I.P Dallas, our God has welcomed home one of his own.

Sincerely Rickey and Denise Johnson

“ We are sorry for your loss. My son came in from hunting yesterday with his head down which is not normal. I asked him what was wrong. He said “Santa” passed away. He thought so much of him and talked about him everyday that he come home from welding school. I never met him but I can tell you the family, that he made a huge impact on the your lives that he touched. God Bless You.
