“ I am just now seeing this, and it hurts me so much; I thought he was still in Texas. Had I known he was in Cabot, I would've reached out to him! James and I go way back to the nights of cruising Race Street, hanging out on the court square, going to parties, etc, but I hadn't seen him since then, and now I regret it! He was a mess, but I would give anything to go back to those days and do them over again, changing little. God bless his sons, for they had a good dad. He was awesome.

“ James was always very patient, kind and humorous when helping me with and IT issues. He shared his cancer struggle with me but had a wonderful attitude and I really thought he would pull through. I am saddened to learn this was not the case. Eternal rest, grant unto him O Lord and let perpetual light shine upon him.

“ James and I became friends in late 1984. We would most of the time end up on some ol backroad doing the normal teenage things on the weekends. I had moved in to Randall Branson’s house until the unthinkable happened to Lonnie. James mother took me in like I was her own. Till I could get my finances together to get my own place. I was 15 almost 16 at that point . The love I got from the family even after the loss of Lonnie sticks to me till this day. It seems we all grew apart since then and I haven’t seen James or his mother till it’s too late to thank them for being so good to me. I owe my friend the honor of being at the memorial today. And I hope all those who truly knew James will have the opportunity to do the same. Brother u and I will catch up on the other side.
