“ James was a good friend and I so admired the way he would not let his disability stop him from doing what he wanted to do. He loved his children and talked about them often. I am sad for the family but glad James is free from all the suffering and pain.

“ James and I lost touch years ago. I suppose that is how it is when kids become adults and families change over time. He forever has been my cousin. His mother has forever been my aunt. Some things never change. I hurt for the family at this difficult time and pray that the peace that passes understanding will heal their hearts. Rest in peace, James.
