“ I am so sorry for your loss of a dear daughter, mom, and friend. She was so young and so much life not given to adventure for memories. She will be dearly missed by her family and friends. God has made his choice for his reasons. We all feel our mission on earth needs to be complete before our time but God lets us know when it is time. She was a beautiful woman and will leave those memories for her loved ones to meet her one day. She will always be around you and you can feel her just keep an open mind. I lost my husband at age 51 in August 2012 and he is around me all the time. Feel for touches on your skin, lights flicker, butterflies, coins (dimes or pennies) or feathers...she will let you know. I have a closeness with God and he has always let me know everything will be ok..from the time I lost my mom at Duke Hospital in Durham, NC in 1969 at age 14 until this very day. Look to God,thank him for the time you had with her and know she is now in better hands than here on earth. Thank you for allowing me to be here for you and your family. I was born and raised in South Boston, VA but now live in the Midwest. Address available to you.

“ Rest in Peace Jamie - you will be missed! Even though we haven't seen you in years, we have many memories from middle school and high school. Much love and many prayers for your family and friends, but most especially for Kevin and your two precious little boys. May God wrap his comforting arms around all of you during this heartbreaking time.

“ We are so sorry for your tragic loss. We are praying that God will hold you close during this time and give you his comfort and peace. The Bible tells us that He is near to the brokenhearted, and that we can "Cast your burdens upon the Lord, and he will sustain you." (Psalm 55:22) I am praying those promises for you.

*With our deepest sympathy,
Val and Ronnie*
