“Although I have long known Mr. Spurlock by name, he was not personally known to me. However, this story came to me by an employee of his. The young employee had stolen from the cash register and when Mr. Spurlock learned about the incident, he went to the young man and said, “Son, I’m sorry for you and if you will repay the money, I won’t report you or press charges. That way you will be able to find a job elsewhere.” The young man did find other employment and was never accused of stealing again.
