“ *Phyllis, Chris & Angela, and all the family,
I know how you hurt and am praying for you. Memaw was definitely a special lady and she will be terribly missed. There is a song that keeps running through my head and I hope you all know it. It's "Knowing What I Know About Heaven" Just in case you don't know it, here is part of the song. Please know that I love you all. Mary*

*I bet the trumpets played and the angels sang Every sweet refrain of Amazing Grace
And that heaven's hands opened up the gate
And the children danced when they saw your face
As happy as they were to see you coming I was just as sad to have to watch you go oh but*

*Knowing what I know about heaven
Believing that your all the way home Knowing that your somewhere better Is all I need to let you go I could hope that I could pray you back But why on earth would I do that When you're somewhere life and love never ends
Knowing what I know about heaven"*

“ Ms. Jewell was my mom's best friend in the world. My mom loved her as her sister and they went through so many hard and happy times together. She was a loving lady who shared her love with so many. She was one in a million who was loved by a million. My love and prayers go out to her precious family.

“Dear Wyona, I thought of you today and couldn't find your phone number, so I searched online and here I found that your mother passed away just last month. I'm sorry to learn also that Joe passed on a few years ago as well. I hope you and yours will find comfort in your happy memories of a life well lived. Please send me an email so that I'll know how to contact you. With fond memories of you and all good wishes, Barbara McDonald
