“ Jodie was one of the most compassionate, loving people that I have ever known. Her smile and eternal optimism was a great blessing to many people. I loved Jodie and will miss her very much. I hope that each of us keeps memories of Jodie alive by emulating her love for life, and especially her love for her students and music.

“ Jodie was a special person to me & all those that were touched by her kindness, especially her students. Her gentle nature & smile will never be forgotten. Whether we were in rehearsals together at the ASU bandroom, on the practice field, teaching at Dixie together, or hanging out in the director's lounge together after a long day of all-region auditions, she made you a better person just by talking to her. The effects of her teaching were still felt at Westside years after she left. What a legacy.

Phil, Brandon, & family, so sorry for your loss. Although you already know this, it never hurts to hear it again: Jodie lived a great life & she lived it the right way - compassionate to all she touched. I will miss her so much.
