When the Lord called, Joe and the family liquidated their assets and moved to Montana as Missionaries to the Native Americans living on Fort Belkcamp Reservation.

He had just recently moved to Kansas and was living there when his life was tragically ended way too soon.

Joseph Collins was a loving father, caring son, and middle child loved by his siblings. He truly will be missed and was loved by many.

“ 4 years later and I still think about you every day. I'm married now and we saved a spot for you at the wedding! We had your picture in a chair with flowers. I know you would love Heath. He's a lot like you and I know you would be so happy that I am loved and taken care of by a man almost as wonderful as you. I have that picture in our house now dad and I stop and tell you I love you every day. I know you're up there holding our precious baby right now and loving him too. I know you needed him more than we did. Give him a kiss and hug and tell him we love him. Give one too yourself as well. I love you so much dad. I wish you were here every single day.

“ So many fun elementary and high school memories. It is hard to believe that we have to say goodbye to someone so young and full of life. (sidenote back in our teenage life we thought over 40 was old) Yeah, it's not so old anymore. It is so unfair sometimes and we don't understand, but God had a plan for Joe's life. Joe was a great friend. I was blessed to call him not just a classmate but a friend. You guys are in my thoughts and prayers over the next few months. I pray peace and comfort to you all. We will miss you Joe. from the class of 95,

“ We have been friends a very long time. We became great friends as adults. I loved how kind you were and how patient you were, specially with my daughter. Turkey learned a lot from you. She still has the radio by her bed that she listens to almost daily. I loved the things you made me, gave me, or fixed for me around the house and they will forever be cherished. You will forever be remembered by my family. I'll never forget the day you cleaned my yard so my dad would not have to. It meant the world to me. The lamp you made with glass from my grandma's house. All because you just liked to help and see people smile. Fly High my friend. I hope you get all the potatoes you can eat. Lol 🍌❤️
