“ I have so many memories of my Grandma. She was one of the funniest people I've ever known (even though half the funny stuff she did, she never knew about lol) Even in her early to mid eighties, very much retired, if you asked her what she did for a living she'd reply, "I sit with the elderly." I'd laugh every time I heard it and say, Grammy, you ARE the elderly and she'd always just laugh right along with me. I had such a wonderful friendship with my Grammy for so many years until her memory faded so I feel that I've already grieved that loss. The loss I grieve now is selfish because its knowing that her beautiful soul no longer shares the same earth with me, that her physical being is no longer here with us sharing this world but I know her journey was long and had purpose and meaning. She touched so many lives with her generosity and dedication to helping others however she could. Grammy, I will miss you so much but your memory will live on in my heart, soul and mind forever. I love you!
