“ A strong and quiet man, he spoke the language of action. When I needed help, he was there without being asked. When the oak need to be trimmed, dishwasher installed, furniture moved, men broke in, glass replaced, car didn't start..... Wayne was there for me. He didn't want any notoriety. An avid reader, he was highly intelligent and didn't brag about it. I miss him.

“ My first memory of WAYNE.....
The dirt country road made for slow, bumpy traveling...far too slow for a lady in labor. When the Ford hit the highway, the pedal hit the metal. With Mother yelling slow down and Maedo hurry up Daddy gunned it.
In the nursery window one little boy baby was more red than the others. His basket tag said Maddock.

“ Prayers for Keith. There will be a lot of people who will miss Wayne showing up to give them fresh vegetables from the garden, fresh fish or deer meat. He loved to share. He was a great caring person and will be missed by many. Rest in Peace my friend.
