“ When I think of Kim, I think of such a positive and upbeat person. Her smile made you feel good when you were around her. She was my son, Tristan's, science teacher last year, and he only had good things to say about her. It is sad to think of her not being here, but it's easier when you think of her walking with Jesus, and the one's she loved will see her again. God bless the family during this time.

“ My heart is breaking for each of you. Kim fought this battle hard, she didn't want to leave Jax at such a young age. You, her family, were always there whenever she needed you. There are no words that will comfort you today, but in the future you will look back and read these messages and a smile will follow. Kim's love for family, friends and life will continue to grow and thrive through all of us that knew her. May God comfort you and give you the strength to continue your journey in life. Kim will always be beside you, you will feel her.
