“ Dear Kellie and family,

My heart is broken for you, I know the piercing hurt that is felt in the first moments of losing someone you love so much. I want you to know that it does get better, but it will never seem real. Focus on the fact that you will see her again, and this life is so short, that it will be tomorrow when you meet again. I pray for you daily as does my Church of over 300 people. Somehow, may you make it through this rough time with grace and peace. We love you all and I'm so sorry any of you have to hurt, it's a terrible thing you must endure. With all of God's love,

“ I am so sorry for your loss. Laura must have been a truly remarkable woman, daughter, sister, wife, and Mother. God promises that we will see our loved ones again. We look forward to that day when we will see Jesus and those precious loved ones and friends who've gone before us. You are all in my thoughts and prayers.

“ That smile could light up a life, not just a room, and her laugh was contagious. The high point of any day with her was making her laugh. She was the warmest, most genuine person I ever knew, and I was and will always be so proud that she loved me. She shared 21 years of her brief life with me and blessed us with two extraordinary children. We love you, Laura, and we will see you again. Love is patient, Love is kind, Love does not envy or boast, it is not arrogant or rude, it is not self-seeking, it is slow to anger, it keeps no records of wrongs. Love does not delight in evil but rejoices in the Truth, it always protects, always trusts, always hopes, always perseveres. This is our Laura. We will hold her in our hearts forever.

“ Tonight as we gathered together to celebrate our 30 year high school class reunion, I learned that a rose had been taken from our bouquet and added to one of the beautiful bouquets in heaven. I was always different from everybody else but you were always a sweetheart to me and accepted me without judgement. You were one of those that I often wondered what ever happened to... Most of my vision is gone now but your smile will never be forgotten in my mind. I'll see you on the other side Laura.
