“ Ms Lillie was one of my favorite people. I only knew her for a short time, but she made such an impression on me. She seemed like a mother to me instead of a friend. Ms Lillie, you are resting now. She told me one day, when we were at the post office, that she didn't mean to sound harsh to people, but that she just felt bad. That was the kind of person she was to others. She was more concerned about how others saw her than about the way she felt. God always shined through her. God blessed me with the short time I knew her. I love you Ms Lillie.

“ Our hearts are broken and the tears are flowing. We tried to get in touch to call and wish her a happy birthday, but no longer had a number that worked. Lillie was like a mother to us...a most dear friend who can never be replaced. Hugs to you, Pat, Barb and Kenneth.

“ I will always cherish the memories I shared with Mawmaw. Her wisdom will always carry me through the difficult times. Her faith and love in Christ was shared with her whole family. She truly wanted her family to know and love Christ as She did. I treasure the weeks when I was a child that I spent at her home. I will miss her greatly and see part of her in all our family. I will miss her laughter--even the silly things I did that she would share with the rest of the family. Somewhere in that old house is a wax apple and a banana that have MY teeth marks in....How she loved us all, no matter what we did, she wanted us to fix our mistakes and keep on going. May we all honor her by remembering that prayer sustains us, faith keeps us strong, love brings hope and happiness, and only time heals the pain in our hearts. I will miss her until time brings us together again.
