I remember when I was going through training in the Searcy mortgage department a few years ago. I have been in mortgage and banking for almost 25 years when I met Lisa I was amazed with how much mortgage knowledge she had and could retain even with the constant changes. I remember telling her "Lisa, you just think and process information so much different than everyone else", she gave me that look and I said no no that is a good thing and i meant it as a compliment. We laughed about it but it was so true she was brilliant!
