“ I sure loved spending time and learning soo much from her. She definitely had a special place in my heart. Some of the things I will miss the most is eating honey buns and mountain dew with her, but I think the main thing besides singing was storytime. She loved to read Because I love you. I sure will miss her and papa Roe, I know they are having a good time singing and dancing

“ We visited Mrs. Roe a few times during the last years at the nursing home to sing with her. She couldn't speak to us, but as we sang old gospel songs, she sang along. She knew every word. We could read her lips and and she was singing the right words. She cried. We all cried. I'm so thankful that Mrs. Mary has reached her external home. I pray her family be blessed as they remember and honor her.
