“ My favorite memories with Auntie were mostly things that we saw or did while on family reunion trips. The one we took to St.Louis in 2012 had lots of memories from on the road to mapping out rest areas throughout the very long lobby, to stop and sit a couple of minutes to rest our backs. The really funny thing was on the trip home my brother says, we could've rented a wheelchair from the hotel. We just laughed because we had just been talking about how much easier it would've been if we had a wheelchair. I could push her while holding on to the chair would've helped to eleviat a lot of my pain. That would've taken at least 15 minutes off of our journey from our room to the other side of the hotel, where of course, every event was held. We talked about that several different times after that. Her laugh is something I'll always remember and always miss.

Love always,

Virginia

“ My sincerest condolences to the Fancher and Waddy families. I enjoyed many hours talking with Mattie on the phone sharing genealogy information about our ancestors. She was such a delight to talk to and always a real lady. Lynnmarie
