“Mamal was one of my hero's. I strive daily to be like her when it comes to my family and home life. Her family was everything to her. She raised 5 sons and alot of the time her 2 niece's and her son's friends. After those sons were grown she continued to give that same love and open home to her grandchildren and their friends. Everyone she ever met immediately became family to her. She was always a natural caregiver. She was the caregiver to her own grandmother, her mother, and even her mother-in-law, and when her husband needed her she took care of him too, even on her last days here with us. She had a soul of an angel. I can only pray that I will become half the woman she was. She will be dearly missed by so many and was loved beyond measure.”

“Mamaw was kind to everyone she met. She was an excellent player at 10,000. Her quilts, blankets, and anything that you could think of that could be made on a sewing machine or with a crochet needle was her favorite past time. She loved yard sales, traveling with Papaw Dean, and cooking for her family. She was a faithful sister, daughter, mother, wife, grandmother, and friend. She loved fishing and having her family come visit her. I am blessed to have had her as my Mamaw. She loved her rose bushes and growing tomatoes. A huge garden was her and Papaw's back. Lovely woman who will stay in our hearts and memories.”
