“ James and Sharon, we will miss your mom. Ken and Norma were among our best friends. I was startled when Ken passed away soon after moving to Searcy and now again I am shocked at Norma's passing. She was such a special person. Always jovial and bouncy whenever we were around her. I always appreciated their committment to Christian principles. Norma was directly responsible for the baptism of our son-in-law Keith Wyatt, Geri's husband. Their memories will always be with us. I never met Norma's new husband, but I expect that he is a good man as Norma was extremely excited to tell us about him when she was in Dallas for Sharon's daughter's wedding. I am sorry that they had no more time together than they did.

At this time you will feel more sad than glad, but remember the good times and the fact that Norma was prepared for this day. Losing your mother, to me at least, is more traumatic than anyone else. Your mother is always your greatest ally and backer no matter what life decisions you might make. Her love sustains and strengthens you through all your trials. When that support is gone, it is hard to replace. You just have to REMEMBER that she supported you in all things you did.

May God Bless you, as well as the whole family group, in this time of saddeness and loss.

Regards,

Gerow and Betty Roberts
