“ To the children, grandchildren, and great grand children of Rosemary Wilson. You already know how special your mom, grandmother, and great grand mother was and always will be in your memories of her, but do you know to how many young people she was influential and for how long back her impact goes? I hope you do. I worked with Rose in Harding's admissions office as HU's first female admissions advisor. She provided me so much support. She was a colleague, a mom, a friend, an advisor, a listener, and much more. We worked together from 1980-1986. That was just a short period of time when she was at HU. She touched thousands of lives there young and old. She always told me to keep a journal. On and off through my life I have written in a journal. It has been one of the most healthy things I have done for myself. I always hear her voice encouraging me to do so. I never forget Rosemary and never will. May God bless you all with His perfect peace. Dawn Zoller Hodges, class of 1980
