“ Aunt Ruby was the Rock of Gibraltar. Nothing flashy, always steady. She made the best candy I've ever eaten. I felt close to her because we shared a birthday.

“ I met Grandma Ruby soon after I started dating her granddaughter in 1990, and way before Stephanie and I were married she treated me like a grandson. It was always a joy to be at her house, especially on Christmas, Thanksgiving or 4th of July. Anyone who knew her realized her faith in Jesus Christ as saviour, and you knew you were in a Christian home when you were at her house. I look forward to visiting with her in heaven.
