“ Amy,
I loved you father, and I am so sorry for your great loss. Do you remember when he gave Rebekka Sugar? He said, "Every little girl needs a puppy." You are in my thoughts and prayers.
Love,
Karen

“ I lived in Bald Knob for about 18 years. Malichi and I go back along ways esp. in the work force. We hunted and fished for years together. As a matter of fact I traded Malichi one of my rabbit dogs for a Milwaukee hammer drill that I still have. Malichi and I would travel to Jacksonville to work with Mantooth Plumbing for awhile. In 1970 I started my own plumbing co. and Malichi worked for me awhile. I had the privilege of teaching him about under ground work and topping out an setting of fixtures. I told Malichi that I would teach him to rough in a pier and beam homes and he was just to big to get under a house.Ha,Ha,. It's a shame when people move away and have their families and loose touch. I have to tell you this, Malichi went upon this two story home to place the vent flashings on our pipe.When he steeped over the crown, that side was solid frost. I was inside and followed his sound off the roof. On the roof all you could see was two hand print and his butt. Thank the Lord he didn't get hurt, but was waist deep in mud laughing.We like to have never got him out of the mud.Ha,Ha,.God Bless you Sherri & family. Our prayers are going up over you.

“ Malichi will be missed by all who knew him. He was a great father, grand father, and friend to us all. I have many memories from the old days of Wordan and the bottoms. He will be missed.
God bless all his family.

“ *Dear Amy,
Words are difficult to express at times like these, but we wanted you to know that you and your family are in our prayers. We had planned on coming to the funeral, but I've come down with the crud and Linda had to babysit. God will get you through this. We love you all.
In Christ's love,

“ *I'm sorry to hear about Malichi. We went to school together at Central It's been a while back, probably close to 50 yrs. I'll also remember Malichi as always being easy going and a great person to be around. Several times I've thought about looking him up. I wish I had of. I would have loved to hug his neck. God Bless,
Possum*
